

Kids: Nong Kiew and a village near Muang Ngoi Neua

Everyone likes kids. It's always fun passing time by taking pictures of kids and then showing the photo to them on the LCD. They make great willing and photogenic subjects. I spent one day in Nong Kiew, one hour down river from Muang Ngoi Neua, before heading further down the river to Luang Prabang. I walked down river to the next village and hung out beside the river with a bunch of kids. Here are a few pictures from that as well as a few more from the village I stayed at near Muang Ngoi Neua.
